stay request, that will require them to submit other pleadings during this period. This proceeding involves many technical and engineering issues, so additional time would also afford counsel adequate opportunity to consult with Prometheus' technical experts. Moreover, the Memorial Day weekend falls during the current 10-day reply window, limiting the availability of support staff. Thus, a brief extension will enable Prometheus to fully address the issues raised in oppositions to its Petition for Reconsideration in a manner which can assist the Commission in the resolution of this matter.

Respectfully submitted,
